These celebrated Bitters are composed of choice Roots, Herbs, and Barks, among which are Gentian, Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Dandelion, Juniper, and other berries, and are so prepared as to retain all their medicinal gualities. They invariably cure or greatly relieve the following complaints: Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Loss of Appetite, Headache, Bilious Attacks, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Ague, Cold Chills, Rheumatism, Summer Complaints, Piles, Kidney Diseases, Female Difficulties, Lassitude, Low Spirits, General Debility, and, in fact, everything caused by an impure state of the Blood or deranged condition of Stomach, Liver, or Kidneys. The aged find in the Quaker Bitters a gentle, soothing stimulant, so desirable in their declining years. No one can remain long unwell (unless afflicted with an incurable disease) after taking a few bottles of the Quaker Bitters.

A Few Remarks on Articulation.

In our last week's edition was pul lished an account, taken from the New Jersey Courier, of a recent gathering of friends and gentlemen of prominence at the Court House in Toms River, N. J. to witness the remarkable proficie articulation, acquired by Miss Maggie B. Lawrence after four months' instruc-tion at the school of Z. C. Whipple, Mystic River, Conn.

The results of the exhibition were very gratifying and satisfactory to all present and the editor of the Courier, who was one of the assemblage, records himself as fully satisfied that it was not the work

To the editor's remarks there is annexed some correspondence between Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Whipple, to which we propose to allude.

The following is the opening paragraph

The following is the opening paragraph of Mr. Lawrence's letter:

During the month of February, 1874, I met a merchant from Chicago, and had a long conversation with him on business matters. He told me that he often employed from fifty to one hundred hands in his tobacco and cigar manufactory. After I had conversed with him a long time, a friend said to me, "The man you are speaking with was born a deaf-mute." The merchant saw my surprise, and said, "Yes, I was born deaf, but my parents sent me to Germany, where I learned to talk." He spoke as clearly and pleasantly as any person. I told him I had four deaf-mute children, all grown to manhood and womanhood, and asked him if he thought they could be taught to speak and read the lips. He said, "Yes, there is no reason why they should not be taught to read and speak as well as I do."

Shortly after the above interview Mr.

Shortly after the above interview Mr. Lawrence heard of Mr. Whipple's school, and being pleased with the account he heard of it, he sent his daughter there, explaining that she was a congenital mute, more than twenty years of age, and, the reader will please note the fact that, "she had "received a fair education by means of "the old sign system taught heretofore in "all the deaf-mute institutions throughout "the United States." Miss Lawrence returned home after four months' instruction "able to speak "so plainly that every one who hears her "can easily understand what she says," and able also "to watch the lips of her her friends and thus know what they say We cannot forbear congratulating the parents upon this fortunate and valuable acquisition by their daughter, and to express the hope that what she has already learned will soon be supplemented and that the ultimate result will be one of But as to the merits of articulation as

But to the question, example of what may sometimes be done for the deaf and dumb. But pray, as a gentleman of extensive business acquaintance and as a traveler to some extent, how many like the Chicago deafmute has Mr. Lawrence met?

They are few, and are widely scattered, for they have been taught by a system appreciable only to a small minor-

Miss Lawrence returns home after four months' instruction quite able to articulate and to read the lips, two very desirable accomplishments. But whether her intellectual powers had received any improvement, or been benefited in any manner by her sojourn at Mr. Whip ple's school, we are not fold. She had been taught a new means of communication to apply to a mind already formed and drilled "by means of the old sign system." This is a common case, and in the glittering that envelopes the surface we too often lose sight of the proofs

Mr. Lawrencehaving asked Mr. Whipple for details of his system of instruction, Mr. Whipple, after giving the desired information, adds:

ENTERTAINMENT. The hospitalities of the Asylum were sendered by the Directors to the officers of the Memorial Union, and other visitors, if the dedication should take place during the vacation. The term of the Asylum beginning on Sept. 9th, it will be impossible to receive guests there. The following hotels will receive persons attending the dedication at reduced rates, viz: Union Hall Hotel, Farmington Avenue, one block from the Asylum, $1.75 per day. United States Hotel, State St., opposite the State House, $2.50 per day.

Park Central Hotel, High Street, near the depot, $3.00 per day, or $1.00 for room only. Allyn House, corner Asylum and Persons wishing tickets for the banquet, will please notify Mr. Weeks how many they desire.

RAILROADS. Free return tickets will be issued to persons who paid full fare coming, on the following lines:

Vermont Central; Boston and Al-

pany; Hartford, Providence and Fishkill; and (probably) New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroads. The Albany and Susquehanna Railroad will also make a reduction, and perhaps the boats from New York. Most of these require a guaranty of at least twenty-five persons in a party. It is, therefore, requested that all persons intending to come over these lines, will inform Mr. Newell at once.

CERTIFICATES. Visitors are required to call at the Asylum as soon as possible after ar riving, and obtain Certificates, which will introduce them at the hotel or private house they prefer, and entitle them to free return tickets.

THE MEMORIAL FUND.

There are now in the hands of the Treasurer of the Memorial Union, and reported by local associations, sums altogether nearly equal to the estimated eost of the monument, three thousand dollars, ($3,000.00.) Further contributions will be gladly received by Mr. Newell, Mr. Weeks, or any of the local Photographs of Mr. Clerc, and of

Rev. T. H. Gallaudet, LL. D., and views of the Monument, to be taken when it is erected, will be on sale for the benefit of the Memorial Fund. Orders may be sent to Mr. Weeks. COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS.
